Last (but not least) of the single vineyards, the 2020 Pinot Noir Rosemary's was all destemmed and brought up in 37% new barrels. Its translucent darker ruby color is followed by a rocking nose of black raspberries, toasted spices, dried flowers, and iron. Rich, medium to full-bodied, and concentrated on the palate, it has ripe tannins, a layered, multi-dimensional texture, and a great finish. It was my favorite in the lineup and is a straight-up gorgeous Pinot Noir readers will love.

Cellar Selction | Red plum and pomegranate aromas make for a fresh and vibrant nose on this bottling. The palate is well structured, clean and fresh, offering intense red-fruit flavors alongside light herb and baking spice. These elements will grow more prominent with time. Drink now–2040.
